About London Life Sciences Week

London Life Sciences Week (LLSW) is the annual event for the global biotech community to come together for a week of networking, dealmaking, and celebrating life sciences innovation.

With a wide-range of events taking place across London including the prestigious Jefferies European Healthcare Conference LLSW offers an exceptional platform to connect, collaborate, and explore the latest advancements in the sector.

Powered by BIA, MedCity and London & Partners, London Life Sciences Week aims to drive sector growth, investment, innovation and global profile for London and the UK.

Supported by The Mayor of London, London Life Sciences Week is a pivotal moment in a long-term strategy to grow the sector in London as set out in The London Growth Plan.

Why London Life Sciences Week?

Gain exposure at a premier global gathering

LLSW brings together leading life science companies, investors, entrepreneurs and influencers from around the world. Sponsoring offers prime visibility and association with a unique brand that positions London as a global hub for innovation and investment.

Promote London and the UK as a life sciences powerhouse

Sponsorship helps promote London and the wider UK as leading destinations to start, grow and fund life science ventures. It's a chance to support the growth of the UK's life sciences ecosystem and showcase your brand as an active contributor to its success.

Connect with global investors and industry leaders

By sponsoring, companies gain access to exclusive networking opportunities with international investors and biotech C-suite executives. It's a strategic platform to build relationships and explore investment and collaboration opportunities.

Inspire the next generation and build public awareness

LLSW also aims to raise the profile of the life sciences sector with the wider public. As a sponsor, your organisation can play a visible role in engaging communities, inspiring future talent, and enhancing the industry's reputation as a force for positive change.

Sponsorship opportunities

LLSW 2025 offers a unique profiling opportunity.

Whilst LLSW consists of many events organised by a multitude of companies, the programme organised by BIA, MedCity and London & Partners comprises two core events;

- "Welcome to London" Reception - Sunday 16th November
- International Investor Summit - Wednesday 19th November

Reasons to sponsor the LLSW core programme include:

- Brand association with influential UK institutions and with LLSW as it becomes a global gathering
- Showcase excellence and demonstrate your commitment to UK Life Sciences
- Promote your organisation and solutions to our international audience and increase visibility of your brand
- Create meaningful connections and establish new contacts
- Amplify your voice and thought leadership
- The promotion and subsequent thought leadership developed in conjunction with LLSW event will be far reaching. It will be marketed to the BIA, MedCity and London & Partners network as well as through our various media, institutions, and supporters.

About the core event programme

Sunday 16th November 2025
